SPEAKER & PARTNERSHIP INFORMATION

Cecilia Esterline

Cecilia Esterline is the Immigration Research Analyst at the Niskanen Center, where she focuses on employment-based visa policy, international student retention, and economic research.

Basil Ottley

Basil Ottley works as a Director of Policy at the Department of the Interior, a federal department started in 2005. Basil graduated from University of the Virgin Islands in 1994 and is currently based in Washington, D.C., United States where his work is centered on federal policy that affects the US Virgin Islands.

Olga Diupina

Olga is a former graduate that has pursued a path as an admissions professional at George Mason University. In her time at GMU, Olga served as an Ambassador, a member of the Honors College Recruitment Team (HCRT), a Client Services worker, a Welcome Team member receiving visitors to the Admissions Office and advising or directing them appropriately, and, finally, as an Admissions Representative, delivering general and Honors College information sessions for prospective applicants and admitted students.

Olga has also served as a volunteer College Application Coach for three years, helping first-generation high school juniors craft their college essays and complete their applications. Olga is also instrumental in the success of on-campus admissions events, providing logistical organization and direction for both the Ambassadors and HCRT.
