

IMPACT: CREATING YOUTH ADVOCATES

High School Program Overview

Starting January 2022, Close Up and the National Network of Schools in Partnership will offer IMPACT: Race, Justice, and Equity. Students will engage in inquiry and deliberation on an issue of their choice in order to understand the political and structural barriers to equity in our systems of education, health, and justice. Students will investigate root causes; identify various approaches taken at the local, state, and national levels; engage with a policy advocate; and create a vision statement that incorporates their personal experiences and tangible action steps they can take within their school or local community.
